The skeleton of a prehistoric wea giantess eight feet tall, bar dus up in the Salmon River country of Idaho, Scientists are excited about the find. The skeleton probably will wind up in a museum, to be seen by only a small portion of the oublic.

What a pity, old P. T. Barnum isn't alive to popularize these scientific discoveries by making people pay admission to see them. One reason for the unpopularity of knowledge is that

The mysterious part is rapidly giving up its secrets. The skulls found recently in California belonged to people who lived before the glacial period about 20,000 years ago, accordlug to latest estimates.

Another big find is made by the Nevada mining engineer, John T. Reid. Two years ago he discovered what looked like a fossil of the sole of a shoe. It even had marks of holes punched for thread, This fossil was found in rock millions of years old. It's a scientific mystery. Experts decide it may be a freak of nature. They don't think people lived that long ago. Reid's latest find is the fossil of a horse's foot. This fossil is annoying the scientists They had it all figured out that the herse originally was a car-sized animal with four toes' or each foot, and that evolution gradual ly turned it into the modern big beast with toos gone and hoofs in their place. The fossil found Reid should have toes. Instead, it like the modern horse's foot. Quite !

Science remin is us of a small boy. happiest when he is rooting around in an old attic. You have observed how scientists are delighted when they find an ancient fossil from which they can reconstruct the past.

Maybe you've also noticed the tendency, of science, to pay a thousand times as much attention to the mysteries of the past as to the great mystery of the future-namely, what bappens to us after death.

In solving one problem, we gener ally create several new ones.

The problem of had roads is fairly well solved At least, a good start has been made. One result is that there are 16,000 index of main highways east of the Mississippi alone, and the cost of keeping these clear of snow is terrific. It costs Connecticut, for in stance. $111 a mile to remove snow from its roads in one winter. Snow removal is just one of many problems created by "solving" the problem of roads. The south doesn't have to contend with the snow problem, yet it has fewer good roads than the north. With what the south saves, maintenance is appreciably diminished.

BILLBOARD ADVERTISING ABOLISHED BY STANDARD OIL FOR NEWSPAPERS

Newspaper advertising has scored another victory.

Standard Oil Company of California, spending millions yearly in advertising its products, has demonstrated to its financial satisfaction the superiority of newspaper advertising over all of its billboards on Pacific Coast highways. The work already has been started. More than 2,000 such signs will be abolished and materials salvaged to other uses.

.One time billboard advocates see a subtle irony in the fact that the Standard Oil Company uses 600 newspapers to advertise the fact that it is abolishing the billboards.

The move, of course, accomplishes another object as well. Billboards detract from the natural beauty of streets and highways. Landscapes made hideous, grotesque spectacles by such commercialism are redeemed to the admiration of the public. The great outdoors is freed of its shackles and the sermon it preaches is given to us clean, crisp and without mercenary adul-

Eventually the billboard will pass from view everywhere. It will do it because it can't compete with newspaper advertising in results for dollars expended, and to an awakening after years of lethargy of the artistic instinct within everyone which revolts at the speciacle of signs blazing challenges for attention along our beauty nooks and routes.

LOS ANGELES AND DETROIT

Roger W. Babson predicts that in the near future San Fransisco will be one of the great cities of the world and that twothirds of the ocean traffic of the world will be carried on the bosom of the Pacific ocean. Another prophet asserts that as the present rate of growth Los Angeles will outstrip Detroit before the end of the year 1924 and that by the first of next January Los Angeles will have a population of approximately 1,275,000 while that of Detroit will be approximately 1,225,000.

This will put Los Angeles in fourth place in the United States in point of population and then Los Angeles, will be in the race with Philadelphia for third place, as the California city has been gaining population at the rate of about twenty per cent a year and Philadelphia has been increasing by only a scant four per cent.

Philadelphia is to be distanced as early as 1930 and then left far behind in the race by the wonder city of Michigan and the Brief but Important Lesson's in Fi home of William Gibbs McAdoo, Roger W. Babson knows whereof he speaks. He knows that the Pacific is destined to win the vast carrying trade of three continents and that San Franeisco is the most magnificent of all the ports of the Pacific

There is a day coming when the gulf ports of Texas and the city of New Orleans may control two thirds of the carrying trade of the Atlantic. There are more than seventy-five millions of latin Americans and they are potential buyers.

American ports are to be closed to immigrants from Italy and other countries of Southern Europe. There is a vast surplus population in southern European countries and there must be an outlet. Shut out of the United States they are going to the Argentine, Brazil and other South American countries.

Argentine, the foremost of the Latin American republics, has vast Italian population and Brazil has a large Teutonic population. These immigrants have been very successful under South American skies and millions of Europeans are going to these latin lands in the coming years.

Someday there will be a United States of South America as populous and as rich and as progressive as the United States of North America. Latin America is the American trade zone of the future. Latin Americans do not go half naked or half starved

NIGHT WORK FOR WOMEN

A Washington dispatch says the Federal Supreme Court upholds state law "forbidding late night work for women." New York lawmakers enacted a law prohibiting the employment of women in restaurants in the cities of the first and second class between the bours of one and six o'clock in the morning and the hurry to accumulate that leads this was the statute upheld by the court of last resort.

One of the eminent justices expressed the opinion that sleep in laytime, following labor at night, was not as beneficial as rest at night, especially in cities subjected to the disturbances incident to modern life.

Dr. Frank Crane's Editorial

Professor Harry Nicholls Holmes, of Oberlin College, recently described ome of the latest discoveries in Colloid Chemistry, and the relation of that branch of science to modern life, in lectures at the Carnegie Institute of (Technology at Pittsburgh, He described Colloid Chemistry as the Chemistry of grains, drops, bubbles, filaments and film-

They may be dispersed in liquids, solids or gas; or loosely aggregated as n cheese, muscular tissue, cellulose and the like. Roughly speaking, Colloid Chemistry has to do with glucy or sticky stuff.

Discoveries in this branch of science may be of enormous benefit to manand in increasing its food supply. Wheat, for instance, has enough of the sticky material called gluten to make good bread dough. Corn, rie and other grains have not enough colloid properties to permit the manufacture of a satisfactory, light, porous loaf. Therefore, if the colloidal chemist can so change the physical properties of corn, the and outs so that they will stretch one acclaim and he bowed to the inout like the best wheat, he will add untold wealth to the world and do much towards checking famines. There is a good deal of waste in coal. If the coal dust is made colloidal, it can be used in a fluid and sprayed like fuel oil and burned under boilers. This colloidal fuel would be excellent for ships because the fire hazard is ess than that of oil.

Dr. Holmes also showed that new processes of this branch of science might e utilized for re-inking old newspapers so that the pulp can be worked over into fresh paper.

The matter is also interesting to the wood industry. Large timbers are becoming scarcer and we are forced to use timbers built up from smaller pieces. The glues we now use greatly limit the period of usefulness of glue to woods. They weaken too soon, for all glues are colloids mixed with water and when they dry they tend to take up moisture from the air and thus weaken. To change these glues so they will not rehydrate after drying, and et will retain their adhesive power, is a problem of great importance,

All of this illustrates the enormous value which investigations in chemist's laboratory have in commerce, manufacture and the everyday affairs

Thrift Essays Written for First National Bank by

Thrift

Pupils of Port Arthur,

Public Schools

Thrift is one of the greatest milestones The habit of saving to provide against one's old age is, in a way, salutary, but as an end it is not in economics. If one chooses to spend while young and starre or go to the poor house when old, that is purely a matter of choice. Thrift followed by investment is simply common sense. Thrift has not been popular because it has been represented solely as a kind of morality which might beachieved by sufficient chastisement of the

A community is but a collection of individuals. Therefore, thrift is an in-dividual affair.

Large corporations think that the highest thrift point is reached when the workman i: vests in the company's stock on a partial payment plan. If the company is bad the officials are stimulating thriftlessness for if the company fails none of those workers will be easily induced again to

As you walk through a men's store usually you see some things you like and a great many that you don't care for. That's natural, when you consider the great diversity of tastes such a store must please.

It's a problem, selecting the right thing from the thousands of articles that are offered. In this respect we have been singularly successful, and we believe it is because we have made our selections with a particular kind of customer in mind.

We have chosen Society Brand Clothes because we are perfectly certain that nothing else will satisfy our customers nearly as well. In cut, in fabric and in tailoring there is nothing to equal them.

SOUND WAVES BEATEN

LONDON, April 2.—The broad-casting of Big Ben's chimes has shown that the sounds are carried by wirethey discovered what is stated to be less much quicker than they travel in the ordinary noy. People listening to the proprietor declared he had bought the chimes on their wireless sets in a block of flats near Hampstead Heath The violin was confiscated by the find that they bear the notes about police, who are looking for the right- 18 seconds earlier than those listening at the open window.

ACTION IN THE MATTER WAS WHOLLY JUSTIFIABLE.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Brisk trading at rising prices marked today's early dealings on the stock exchange. Coppers made particularly good reaponse. Anneonda, Kennocolte and ether issues scored fractional gains. Heavy buying on Union Pacific attracted attention in the rairoad list, the stock reaching new high ground for the current movement at 140. Chesapeake and Ohio was another strong spot, selling at 733, a four point recovery from the rocent low. Prices on the rtock exchange today included:

ditneys Well Organized Bridgeport's experiment failed in the face of the best leadership demonstrated by a jitneymen's organization in any American city. The lit-ner operators had inspectors to insure that schedules and runs were carried out to cover all-perio s of the day. The more profitable runs were alternated so as to give everyone fair chance at the profits, but despite this discontent erept in and the service offered in the end projed the controlling factor in arousing dissatisfaction by the public. The public attitude changed. The litneys had failed to measure up. During the test it must in all fairness be considered that there were no personal objections to the operators themselves. What the people and business men objected to was a chaotic condition caused by factor which seemingh were beyond remedy. Neither were they defending the traction company as a public utility.

Women Refused to Ride

Service-the lack of it-set the public against the jitneyer Women refused to ride. There were no accommodations for bundles. The pitness may have been safe, but there was a prevaling impression that they were not safe. They had to run at a high rate of speed to keep traffic clear and women refused to be packed in like sardines, set on the lips of strangers and be buffeted over bumpy streets. Business suftered, stores were deserted, clerks and other wage earners were last off though a perod of depession which fellowed and some apprehension was felt that hard times sas abcad. Bridgeport at the end of the two months trial period returned to the street cars. The city was zoned in order to give the traction company a chance to get short, as well as long land patronage, and this increased their ability to give service which was lacking before.

Tour old roof painted with fiber roofing coment makes you a solid sheet and water-moof roof BONDED ROOFING CO. Phone 235 With Serv-U Auto Laundry. was lacking before. Both Sides Play Fair Extensions were made which it was impossible to make before, and now the city has transpotation facilities which cares for about any peak load situation such as occurs in an indus-trial city. Fares are reasonable schedules are kept and passengers get to their destination on time.

Bridgeport now is converted to the fact that the public gets what it pays for, because it is really the book of the situation. Patrenage is found to be the controlling factor in good trolley service and now there is a disposition on both sides to play fair with the other.

It takes a lot of living in house to make it a home.

Yes, that is partially true; but to a prospective purchaser, a home is just so much material, erected in the most convenient way—on the most desirable location—NOTHING MORE.

Possibly little Johnny was born there, grew up from babyhood under the old roof and many are the pleasant memories; but I can't sall pleasant memories; neither can anyone cise, but I can sell your property if you will forget such sentiments when you make a price.

Eleven Barrels, of Mash Found in Marsh

ARRESTS LACKING

Officers Lie in Wait For Moonshiners

Shortly after daybreak today five stills with a total capacity of more than 1,000 gallons were confiscated by a party of officers under Constable H. F. Baker three miles out on Alligator. Bayou.

Baker accompanied by Deputy Bennet left Port Arthur about 3 o'clock this morning and circled through the marshes where they lay in wait for suspected bootleggers to put in their appearance, but not one

Five stills captured were within a radius of a half mile of one another back up the bayou, from the Texas Company's tank farm.

According to Baker the place where the stills were captured plainly showed signs of having been in use for some time, a small dumping ground having been piled up in the marshes out of the mash which had been run through the stills. Empty cans showing the bootleggers had camped there for long periods were in evidence about the places where the stills were captured.

The five stills confiscated in today's early morning raids bring the total of Baker's up to 11 since he took office last August.

In addition to the stills captured 11 barrels of mash were destroyed and about a gallon of white whisky confiscated.

The stills were brought to the city jail where they will be sold for junk

EARBAGE CANS

Seek to Determine If Cost Pleasantville, A. 1. und undounced Excessive Investigation into the price being paid for garbage cans by the city has been started by the commission.

The question, raised as a result of Mayor J. P. Logan's office asserting that cheaper cans are available, was regular session of city commissioners, when the mayor called in Mr. Rosen. garbage can contractor, and C. W. Bode, gurbage department superintendent, to determine the prices being raid and the condition of cans purchased. ...

Cheaper Cans Reported theré is a man named McFarland who gets cans from the Texas Company, and who will sell them con siderably cheaper than we have been able to get them in the past," Mayor Logan said in discussing the question. "I have Mr. Warren out investigating this at this time, and if we find we can get garbage containers from any-one cheaper than we are now getting them, we will do so Superintendent Rode reported to the mayor that he had seen some of Mr. McFarland's cans.

"We pay $2.60 for the cans we are getting form Rosen," Mayor Logan said, "and sell them for $3 to the public. We don't make any profit on them at that, since by the time we have delivered them, we have used up the profit in defraying hauling and they are sold to the city.

It developed that Rosen secures his cans from the Texas and Gulf refining plants, goes over them with a wire brush and paints them. Tops are then made for the garbage cans.

"I frequently reject as many as 19 or 20 cans out of an allotment of 40." Mr. Rode explained to the

The city recently purchased a numther of smaller garbage cans, new, and still have over half the order yet unplaced. They are selling for $3.50,

Mayor Logan said that the citizens are not required to puchase the cans being sold by the city, that they are at liberty to buy garbage caus wherever they please, and that should the investigation of Mr. Warren reveal that cans can be bought cheaper from "someone besides the present place, we shall do so. We are not under contract to buy garbage cans from anyone."

In the use of shell, however, is was brought out by John Glasgow, one of the committeemen present, the shell which is purchased for this work must be shell and not "one shell to a shovel of dirt." Estimates of Cost Given

City Engineer J. O. Herpin yes. terday told the committee that it would cost the city in the neighborbood of $15 a lineal foot to revet the canal bank in a manuer similar to that employed by the govern- ings, a suitcase, to her aunt. Justices ment engineers in front of their of of the peace handed down a verdict of fice across the canal near the Pleasure Pier. This work cost the government slightly over $6 a foot. the smaller cost being due to practical elimination of the labor cost was estimated by City Engineer Herpin that the shell revetment might be constructed at a cost of about half that of the concrete. In connection with construction of the revelment by the city. Herpin told members of the committee be planned to ask for three things in the budget for his department for the next year. First of these would be for sufficient money to bring the levee system of Port Arthur up to an average fielght of nine feet. The next would be to repair the bulkbend at DeQueen boulevard and the canal and near the Texas filling station, Hand closed flood gates would take the place of the automatic gates now in use on sewer lines entering the canal, which seldom work, Herpin stated.

Those attending yesterday afternoon's meeting were Henry Lobmann, J. O. Herpin, Howard Smith, S. W. Clark, J. Glasgow, J. B. Saint, and George M. Craig, chairman. This committee will meet Saturday afternoon for an inspection trip of the levees to the north of town. This trip will be made on

Pending another meeting of this committee no recommendation was made to the budget plans of the city engineer, the committee having scheduled another meeting before this will be done.

Thrift

Thrift means economy in everything. The secret of thrift is to live simply, buy only what we need and take care of what we have. The people who succeed in life are the economical people. One should begin early in life to learn to save energy, health, time and money. Children should practice economy while they are young by learning all they can, by obeying premptly, by saving food and taking care of their clothing.

We can be good Americans by being thrifty. A good American beautifies his heavy below helps halls are his home below helps.

The Editorial Mind

This is the glorious season when Post Arthur housewives discover that moths have gotten into the upholptered furniture and caten holes in clothes stored away last fall. In fairbess to the moths, it must be admitted that they have a sense of places that show most prominently.

Dr Titschak of Leverkusen has finally discovered how to checkmate the moths—possibly exterminate them Scientific American magazine.

Titschak experimented with 2,000 chemicals before he found what he wanted. Finally he got the right chemical. For instance, he takes raw wool and applies the chemical to it. No odor, ne destructive effect on the wook. No trace that the chemical has been used. But, forever after, moths will not eat this wool. They crawl around on it, in the norm stage, and die of starvation.

Later, we presume, this chemical or something similar will be placed on the market. So for the experiment seems to be in the laboratory stage.

Everything has, in nature, its destroyer. That is the principle that researchers like Titschak base their

REPRESENTATIVE GARNER OF TEXAS STEPS OUT AS A NATIONAL LEADER

Representative John M. Garner, according to Washington dvices, would accept the place of democratic national committeelman if tendered to him by the democrats of Texas and while he would esteem it a very high honor he will not be an avowed candidate or permit his friends to enter into a contest to win

According to the same advices Mr. Garner would look upon the conferring of the honor by his fellow democrats at home as an evidence of their appreciation of his long service in Washingion as a servant of the people and one who has ever been bumor-always select, for their eating loval to democratic principles and policies.

There are many worthy democrats, no doubt, who aspire to the honor. Some are receptive candidates, some are of the dark horse variety while others hope to be struck by lightning when eventually. The story is told in the the delegates assemble to select forty delegates to the national convention in the city of Waco late in the month of May.

John M. Garner has had a remarkable career. . He has served many terms in the lower house of congress. He was a young unknown when the people of his district selected him for the first time and he is one democrat from the south and the west who has grown with the times and never stood still.

His record discloses this interesting fact: He worked his way from an unknown to leadership. His committee assignments have not been won throughout the years without intelligent; work and loyalty to the principles on the part of this Texan who is a leader of his party today in national halls of legislation, whose name is known in every democratic household, whose face is a familiar one in the higher councils of democracy throughout the republic and who has the confidence, of his fellow democrats abroad as well as those whom he serves at home.

Hard work, bull dog tenacity in fighting for principle, loyalty to the masses and not to the classes, unflinching courage and high personal integrity are some of the attributes which have made John M. Garner one of the foremost democratic leaders of his time.

He is a master of economics, his taxation views are the views as much money as was wasted in the of those who believe that wealth should bear and pay a proper share of the cost of government and that righteous men and righteous laws should be the fruits of democracy when placed

John M. Garner is not a genius—that is, he was not born a moth specializer at attacking wool genius. He has been a plodder all his life. In early youth he recognized that there is no royal road to greatness and that the winner is the worker and for a worker to win he must climb The Scientific American article the ladder, rung by rung, never barter principle for expediency says that the moths so often seen and stand steadfast at all times to the principles first enunciated by Thomas Jefferson and carried on by the great leaders of democracy from the Sage of Monticello to that fearless democrat who was the war president of the republic and who though it has wings, rarely flies out will live in history as one of the greatest champions of the peoples rights and visioned in the coming some day of a parliament of the world founded upon the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God. .

John M. Garner is an old-fashioned democrat who moves with the procession. If the demorats of Texas should go out of their way to honor him, then they will only honor a man who has ever been a credit to his state and to his party at home and abroad.

DISPOSITION OF THE PLEASURE PIER

Citizens of Port Arthur have placed themselves on record as not favoring long-time lease of the Pleasure Pier to private ina pedestrian. No court would concede terests, and as being thoroughly in accord with the proposition that the Pier is a public playground and as such free to everybody who wishes to visit it.

This in substance is the Y. M. B. L.'s position in the matter. Wednesday night's mass meeting unanimously recommended price is low. Consider the value, for both-provided each keeps his that the city follow this course of action in handling the Pier

To clarify a matter susceptible to misinterpretation among. those not present at the meeting it might be well to explain, however, that this does not mean that attractions such as any rides which might be installed, dance pavilion, soft drink and sandwich stands, etc., are to be free to the public. It does mean, of time and brains that are devoted however, that with such exceptions anyone who cares to may go bathing, fishing, or otherwise enjoy themselves may do so to their heart's content.

So much for explanation,

The difficulty of inaugurating a policy of gratuitous entertainment to the public was demonstrated by speakers. It would he difficult, of course, to lease a concession, or concessions and men who know the most about the expect them to be conducted without profit. No one would take a proposal such as that. Quite probably repairing of the pier, future, and are selling their fieldand this includes the approach to the pier bridge, now con- ings. denned as unsafe, would entail an excuditure of between $5,000 and $8,000, It also is quite probable that if disposition is made of the pier in accordance with the city's advertisement for bids, concessionaires must meet this expense and some satisfactory agreement entered into to get their money back.

As the pier now stands it is a crippled horse eating its head offat the manger. Aside from its loss to the public as a recreation ground for which it was intended, in its present run-down condition it is taking a heavy toll which some day must be met gressional Record, we recommend, in in repairs. Anything that will insure the rights of the public to it, and at the same time make it possible to renovate it and keep it in condition would seem the appropriate thing to do. The mass meeting indicated this by their unanimous vote on the motion mady by Raymond Murray, and by this vote passed their recommendation to city council.

DO IT BEST

THE way to make the most money and achieve the greatest success in what you are doing is very simple. It is to do it befter than anyone else can do it.

A recent treatise on how to choose and prepare for one's life work says that there are tens of thousands of men writing business letters in the United States every day. Some of them get three or four cents a lettet, others may average as high as fifteen or twenty cents but there is a man in New York who gets as much as five hundred dollars for one letter.

He writes a better letter than anabody else metal surfaces; but there is one man who can smooth the faces of two slee: cubes so perfectly that when they are placed together, absolutely dry, they will stick. Theoretically, if the surfaces were absolutely smooth, they would when placed together, become one bar of steel. The ordinary machinist who does tolerably well gets from two fifty to ten dollars a day. This man who can do it best sells his little pieces of steel for more than six hundred dollars paid for, son know.' She looked sort tell you about it; I don't think I of them. But Eugene Grubb applied himself to the business until he can raise a crop of a thousand bushels of good potatoes from one acre of ground. If all you want to do is to do as well as the average man you will be comed to mediocrity as long as you live.

Whatever you do, try to do it better than anybody else can do it, and nothing can prevent you from coming to the top.

goes so go the Cardinals.

The thing to do, then, when you visit the again led his league last season with .384.

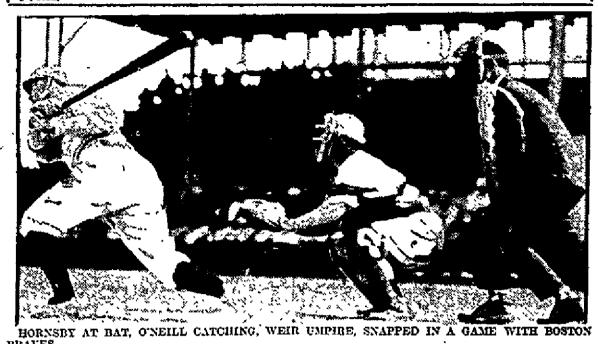

It is especially the thing to do this spring, since Mr. Hornsby and his manager, Branch Rickey, do little more than smile superficially as they exchange the greetings of the day.

Mr. Hornsby has not forgotten that Rickey soaked him on the whiskers in the clubhouse late last season following a sulphuric dialogue in the course of which Mr. Hornsby intimated that if Rickey could manage a ball club he, Mr. Hornsby, could make a watch with fourbrake attachment and balloon tires.

It was later disclosed in the public prints that the two had shaken hands over a banana split and agreed to let bygones be bygones. For once this was not a lot of apple sauce. Hornsby for Hornsby

It so happens that Mr. Hornsby is a regular guy, and while he unquestionably would welcome a deal which would carry him elsewhere, preferably to New York, where, as he says, 'McGraw would make a regular second baseman out of him," he has no intentions of laying down on the job in St. Louis.

Rickey will get just as much out of Hornsby this year as he ever did, possibly more. Indeed, Hornsby may be more inclined to play ROGERS HORNSBY, NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPION BATSMAN, CONTINUES HIS GREAT HITTING IN EXHIBITION GAMES IN FLORIDA. HIS TIMELY SWATS EN-ABLED THE ST. Hornsby is one of the most remarkable right-hand hitters of all time. This spring he seems already to be hitting in mid-season stride. Brooklyn has one of the best pitching staffs in the old league but Uncle Robbie's pitchers were unable to get Hornsby out in an exhibition game here.

Later, at Sarasota, John McGraw sent his first-string pitchers against the Cardinals and Mr. Hornsby tore them to shreds with a devastating bat fire.

Cards' Weak Spot

Rickey hasn't nothing to worry about his headliner. It's his catching staff and the right side of his infield that should demand his concern. With Eddie Ainsmith gone Rickey probably has the worst catching staff in the league. At present Tubby Clemons is rated as his first-string catcher. Tubby is merely at good democrat who writes to the home folks regularly.

Rickey is using Bell, a Houston rookie, at third in place of the veteran Stock who is a holdout, and Freigau, an Ohio collegian who was with the team last year, at short. Old Doc Lavan is the reserve. Whether Bell and Freigau will measure up remains to be seen.

The outlield is unchanged, likewise the pitching staff, with the exception of Sotheron, who was pulled back from Louisville, presumably to show the boys how to wear an Ascot scarf correctly.

Arrivals Lacking Today In Sabine Ports

All-the ships were going out and none coming in today, the Sabine district ports report. The U. S. naval tanker Brazos, inward bound to be Magnelia company's terminals at Beaumont, was the only arrival re-ported up to a late hour today, and indications were that the Texas company's steamship Lightburne is the only other probable arrival.

The Lightburne passed Sand Key Wednesday about 6 p. m., according to a vices received by the Texas company marine department here. Sailings included two tankers from Port Arthur, and two cargo ships and one tanker from Beaumont. The steam-bip Silver Ash, which arrivein Port Arthur Thursday, shifted t the Texas company's terminals a Port Neches, and the cargo shi. COLONIAL HERO MINUS HIS HEAD

Tourist Took It North As Indian Curio

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 4.—The emains of Brig. Gen. Samuel Elbert, colonial governor and military leader of Georgia, following the discovery of the bones at Rea's hall, near Savannah, about two years age, now rest in Colonial cemetery-all except

The re-interment of Gen. Elbert's bones, together with the remains of his wife, whose bones were also found in the grave discovered by Brig. Gen. R. J. Travis, has an interesting untold story in connection with the whereabouts of that distinguished patriot's head.

About five rears ago, drainage work took inborers to the vicinity where Gen. Elbert's grave was later discovered. While the workmen were ligging out Pipemaker's canal, a keleton bead rolled out of the earth. W. F. Chaplin's superintendent of county public works, took the head to the court house here, and for some time it was on display. Months later, a northern tourist, making a southern tour for Indian relies, visited Savannah. He was a friend of Chaplin, and the head greatly interested him. It was generally believed that the head was that of an In-

Because of the tourist's interest in the head, Chaplin gave it to him. Before General Elbert's remains were discovered Chaplin died, as did his wife. Consequently, it has been mpossible to learn the identity of the northerner who holds the head of General Elbert.

The strip of paper that makes each tulip should be six and a half inches long and three inches deep. Fold it in five sections and cut so that the edges cling together as the diagram at the top shows. Twist the bottom parts with nice and cover the wire with green paper for the stem. The feaves are only strips cut with rounded edges and fluted. Leave the lid on your shoe box and stick the stems of the tolips in it. Then make the green paper covering high enough to cover up where the stema are fastened in.

We found some mineral on the trip. But it wasn't my chief interest yet. After three isouths I returned to Leavenworth—flat broke. But the call of the southwest had got me. When I heard that another expedition was going into the Indian Territory, I rneaked into the camp, sidled alongside a soldier, who threw his blanket over me, and became a sort of stowaway; for this expedition was premarily military. We went to Wichita, at the bey-Cey of its wild days. There Wyatt Earp, who later refereed the Sharkey-Fitzsigamons fight, was head of mounted police force. He had his hands full. The memories of my month there haven't faded with the 50 years that have gone by.

I drifted on southwestward With Charles Du Boise I went on a survey into Indian Territory, covering from the 98-100 meridian as far south as Red River. We traveled many hundreds of index on foet. We crossed the "Cow Skin" River, so named because of the thou-ands of cattle that were drowned in it: Slate Creek; we went past Wellington, through the "Wood of the Are."

Near Fall Creek we found a man string from a tree. We shot at the repe and brought the man down. Then we were almost lynched ourselves, for interfering with "the law."

The dead man was only a youngs ter-yet be was a "killer." Later found that most of the bad men murderers and others, were 20 or

Swiss Insure Against Sicknesses

GENEVA. Apr.l 3 - The Swiss Canton of Vand, of which Lausanne is the capital, has just completed an extended experiment of compulsory that sickness insurance.

The success of the system to date has been such as not only to insure its permanent adoption in the Canton, but its extension to other Cantons of the confederation.

Under the system adopted compulsory sickness insurance is obligatory on all children, regardless of nationality, attending the primary schools of the Canton.

insurance is carried out through the medium of a Cantonal Children's Sick Fund, which is workal and controlled under the guarantre of the State and the funds distribated amongst the various munici-
